Biography:	Exuberant with red fruit, herb, and tannin, the 2020 Tempranillo is showing no signs of its extra year spent chilling in barrel. Red cherry, red plum, tobacco, roasted herbed meats, and cinnamon spice speak loudest at first sniff, then, with air, more subtle notes of fig, graphite, and fresh dill come into play. The palate remains fresh and lively and see-saws between fruit, minerals, spice, and, of course, lots of compact, youthful tannin. This Tempranillo is built for age -- if you can't wait, decant or keep it open for a day (or three).
Accolades:	95-97 points, Jeb Dunnock
